DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1, 2, 5, 6, 8, 10, 11, 15-19 and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Boehm et al (5,683,312). Claims 1, 19, 20, Boehm discloses a golf ball comprising a core, an inner cover layer (22), and an outer cover layer. The inner cover layer has a Shore C hardness from 30 to 95. The outer cover layer is made from a polyurethane prepared from polyols and diisocyanates or polyisocyanates (col. 3). Claim 2, the PGA compression and COR are obvious since the materials appear to be similar and because the values are broad enough to include any golf ball. Claims 5-6 and 10, the inner cover layer may be made from styrene and butadiene or thermoplastic materials (col. 4). Claim 8, the inner cover layer has a Shore C hardness from 30 to 95. Claim 11, the inner cover layer has a thickness from 0.03 to 0.12 inch. Claims 15-18, Boehm discloses a golf ball comprising a core, a first inner cover layer, a second inner cover layer (22), and an outer cover layer. The second inner cover layer may be made from styrene and butadiene or thermoplastic materials (col. 4). The outer cover layer is made from a polyurethane prepared from polyols and diisocyanates or polyisocyanates (col. 3). The PGA compression and COR are obvious since the materials appear to be similar and because the values are broad enough to include any golf ball. One of ordinary skill in the art would vary the ranges for optimal performance.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-3, 8-11, 14, 19-21, and 23 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-11 of U.S.

Patent No. 6,663,508. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the present invention and the '508 patent claim golf balls comprising a core, an inner cover layer made from polyurethane having a Shore D hardness of at least 60 and an outer cover layer made from polyurethane having a Shore D hardness of less than 53. Rearranging the limitations does not render a patentable distinction and is within the capabilities of one skilled in the art.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 4 and 22 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
